

Morning Telegram.

GRAND RAPIDS, JULY 17, 1885.

Any subscriber not receiving THE TELEGRAM regularly and promptly will confer a favor by notifying this office by telephone or postal card. Our telephone number is 381.

Weather Predictions.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—For the Upper Lakes occasional local rains, westerly winds, lower temperature, cool wave.

TOWN TALK.

Business in the courts was very dull yesterday.

Rains at the Fair grounds and base ball at the Park this afternoon.

John Town has sold the old property on Waterford street to T. Stewart White for $50,000.

The excursion tickets to Jackson and return, good from the 18th to the 23d inclusive will cost $2.50.

The thermometer upon the shady side of the Union Depot showed 90 degrees above yesterday at 3 p.m.

Nearly every night some of the patrons go boating. The weather is not favorable for boating though.

The County Superintendents of the Poor have a baby boy two weeks old for which they would like to find a name.

There was no meeting of the Board of Police and Fire Commissioners yesterday, owing to the absence of a quorum.

The Edward Johnson burglar case was called in Justice Coulter's court yesterday, and again adjourned until Saturday.

While the steel stock bridge is finished there will be no bridge across the river within three and one-half miles of Lyon street.

The new "Victor" buggy mentioned yesterday was owned by O. C. Everett, as stated before, by him for Ed. M. Moore.

The Birch and Tyler Company at Panton City is using dynamite to爆破 the clay instead of dragging it out with pick and shovel.

A horse attached to A. Kutz's ten-cent delivery wagon ran away upon West Brule street yesterday afternoon, but caused little damage.

The chicken thieves are at work again. Mrs. Woodman, a widow on Maple Avenue, lost seventeen Wednesday night—all she had except one hen and brood.

Oliver Hennings was arrested on South Division street last evening for jumping on street cars, and was released to appear and answer to the charge this morning.

It is understood that Judge Parish will not decide the tower light inspection case until the defendants file a demurser, so that an appeal may be taken by either party.

Maggie Porter, who has been confined in jail for some time for safe-keeping, has sufficiently recovered from her supposed insanity to be taken to White-hall by a sister.

Petoskey's Plateau has charge of Fulton Street Parades. Some trees have been trimmed and the gas lighted in the grand stand, he says that he can "keep it up enough for a Sunday School."

All north-bound trains upon the Grand Rapids & Indiana Road for the past forty-eight hours have been crowded with people seeking the northern resorts. The sleepers, especially, have had no berths to spare.

The committee arrangements for the meeting of the National Foundational Society in September has, as yet, been unable to find a hall suitable for the purpose. The latest idea is to close Pearl street bridge and use it for a hall.

James W. Page of Cheyenne, W. T., was in the city yesterday, and while here purchased M. J. Smiley's handsome suite of driving horses, paying $300 for them. Mr. Page is at one time the owner of "Many Colors," and is at present the owner of "Westwind."

It is not Charles W. Bignell, the competitor, who is charged with perjury by the Grand Rapids Iron Company, but Charles H. Bignell, whose friends claim that the charge is made simply to postpone collection of the judgment which he holds against the complainants.

Among the many other improvements being inaugurated by the Chicago & West Michigan Railroad is the replacing of the light steel rails, between this city and Holland, with steel rails, a much stronger and more durable material. A construction train is now working south from this city improving the ballast of the road-bed.

PERSONAL.

W. H. Purring of Cleveland, Ohio, is visiting friends in this city.

Mrs. Wm. Reynolds left the city yesterday to visit friends in Pennsylvania.

United States District Attorney Stone has gone to Marquette on official business.

County Clerk Harvey and family spent the afternoon and evening at the lake yesterday.

N. Minich, merchant of Massillon, Ohio, is visiting his daughter, Mrs. D. S. Hopkins, of Paris, France.

Mrs. Harriet Wiener and Miss Lottie Lang are visiting Mrs. Dr. Peck and other friends in Lowell.

Mrs. John Fornberg and her son, Arctic and Johnny, Jr., have gone to spend a few weeks with relatives near Springfield.

Christian Schubert, an old man who has been a quiet citizen for the past few months, has been taken away by his children, who live in Ottawa county.

Moses Thomas and Stephen Cobb, of Kalamazoo, were the owners of Jacob and A. C. Puntillo, of this city, have gone on a trip to the north shore of Lake Superior.

Another Pioneer Gone.

Michael Quinn, the well-known dyer and merchant tailor, died at his residence, 30 North James street, yesterday. He apparently suffered a stroke of paralysis, but as he partially recovered from its effects his friends hoped that he would regain his normal health.

The improvement was not permanent, however, and he grew rapidly worse during the last week. He was born in Ireland in 1817, and came to this country in 1842. He leaves a wife, three sons and six daughters. Two of his daughters reside in this city—Mrs. Frank Ney, Mrs. Louis Lammer and Mrs. Frank Nolda. The funeral will occur from the residence at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

LITTLE TRAVERSE BAY.

ITS MANY DELIGHTFUL RESORTS

Notes Compiled by One of the Favored Members of the Recent Michigan Press Association.

The editorial excursion party was hastening away from Charlevoix upon the steamer "City of Grand Rapids" and the "Faxon," bound for Petoskey, when THE TELEGRAM's notes upon the trip ran short yesterday. The storm signals were up, the clouds were dark and lowering, and everything in the sky indicated a storm as the boats rounded the outer pier of Charlevoix harbor and headed for Little Traverse bay. The water was smooth, however, and the clouds broke away making this part of the trip more delightful even than the ride of the forenoon. A gorgeous panorama was on exhibition in the clouds, and the storm, passing rapidly to the north, could not have added better for the pleasure of the excursionists. The boats can near the east shore of Lake Michigan, affording a fine view of the landscape.

In little less than an hour the boats were in Little Traverse Bay, which is about one hundred miles long and six miles wide at its mouth. Its high and undulating shores, covered with thick timber growth, gradually converge as the steamer pursues their course. Here and there along the shores is seen a cottage, a newly established resort, and upon the bosom of the bay a tiny group of smaller steam craft. Over the steamer's bow, located high and beautiful at the head of the bay, in the distance, a small village, Petoskey, is visible. Here well built chancing hotels and residences seem to sit upon a succession of terraces rising one above the other. The city is beautiful from the bay and every passenger is admiring her beauty as the captain sings out "Songwe take a line forward," and the boat swings around to the well-constructed dock; the passengers seize gripsacks, umbrellas, cloaks and innumerable articles and descend the gang plank.

At 10 o'clock Thursday morning, the chief city upon Little Traverse Bay, is now less than ten years old; has a rapidly growing population of upwards of 5,000 and is decidedly a modern place, alive to the needs of the times, well supplied with schools, churches, manufacturing institutions, business houses and hotels. The latter are among the finest in the State, and at this season of the year are crowded to their fullest capacity with summer visitors, who seek the health and pleasure afforded by this cool and delightful resort. Petoskey's fame as a leading summer resort is rapidly spreading and it is destined to be the largest city which falls right from the north bound trains upon the Grand Rapids & Indiana Road. A large number of the excursionists stop at The Arlington, the commodious and fashionable hotel managed in such fine style by Jas. Hayes, formerly of Grand Rapids. Here the citizens of Petoskey had provided a pleasant entertainment for their editor guests in the shape of a grand ball and banquet, given by the ladies, the heads of the families of the places were present. The spacious hall room was handsomely decorated and illuminated for the occasion, and a large party joined the merry dance until late Thursday morning, when a number of the party took their departure for home. A much larger number, however, remained to visit the places of interest about the bay.

At 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, those who remained went across the bay to Harbor Springs, where they were most cordially received and royally entertained by the enterprising citizens of that place.

From Thompson Hotel, the hands of the visitors were at the height of their powers.

At 4 o'clock the excursionists had alighted from the north bound trains upon the Grand Rapids & Indiana Road for the past forty-eight hours have been crowded with people seeking the northern resorts. The sleepers, especially, have had no berths to spare.

The committee arrangements for the meeting of the National Foundational Society in September has, as yet, been unable to find a hall suitable for the purpose. The latest idea is to close Pearl street bridge and use it for a hall.

James W. Page of Cheyenne, W. T., was in the city yesterday, and while here purchased M. J. Smiley's handsome suite of driving horses, paying $300 for them.

Mr. Page is at one time the owner of "Many Colors," and is at present the owner of "Westwind."

It is not Charles W. Bignell, the competitor, who is charged with perjury by the Grand Rapids Iron Company, but Charles H. Bignell, whose friends claim that the charge is made simply to postpone collection of the judgment which he holds against the complainants.

Among the many other improvements being inaugurated by the Chicago & West Michigan Railroad is the replacing of the light steel rails, between this city and Holland, with steel rails, a much stronger and more durable material.

A construction train is now working south from this city improving the ballast of the road-bed.

James W. Page of Cheyenne, W. T., was in the city yesterday, and while here purchased M. J. Smiley's handsome suite of driving horses, paying $300 for them.

Mr. Page is at one time the owner of "Many Colors," and is at present the owner of "Westwind."

It is not Charles W. Bignell, the competitor, who is charged with perjury by the Grand Rapids Iron Company, but Charles H. Bignell, whose friends claim that the charge is made simply to postpone collection of the judgment which he holds against the complainants.

Among the many other improvements being

PRESENTED AN ELEGANT CHAIR.

A Surprise for Patrick Kearney and Superintendent Perry.

Since Patrolman Patrick Kearney retired from the police force, his former companions raised a purse and bought a beautiful rocker for him as a token of their high esteem for him as a friend and an officer. The chair is elegantly upholstered in brown silk plush, trimmed in old gold, and is a very appropriate present for a man in Mr. Kearney's health and condition. It was intended that the presentation should take place Wednesday evening, but Mr. Kearney was out of the city, so it was postponed until last evening. Yesterday afternoon Mr. Kearney was informed that the Superintendent wished to see him at headquarters at half past six, the time being fixed at the time when the day force comes in and the night force is ready to go out, so that all would be there to witness the ceremony. It was understood that Judge Holmes would make the presentation speech as usual on such occasions, but due to the absence of Clerk, Tower, and Court Officer Peiton arranged with the Judge that he should be absent, in order that they might hear an impromptu speech by Superintendent Perry. When the men had all arrived the Superintendent had them form in line in the court room, brought Mr. Kearney up and then went into the Judge's office to bring out the speaker. The Judge gave a short speech and the Superintendent addressed the officers in his charge. He did not shift the responsibility but proceeded to make a speech that was highly complimented by those who heard it. He says that he surprised himself and only regrets that a stenographer was not present, so that it might have been printed in full. Mr. Kearney was greatly surprised, while he might have expected something of the kind, he was not prepared for the speech of the Judge. He was told that the Judge had tendered him and really did not expect anything of the kind, as he had been on the force but five years. He thanked the man for the kind reminder of their friendship and assured them that it was with regret that he severed his connection with the force. It was only on account of his failing health that he did so and he would always remember his experience with the police of Grand Rapids with pleasure.

THE TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

State Superintendent Nelson Much

Broken Down in Health.
The sessions of the Teachers' Institute, being held at the High School, were generally well attended yesterday, with the exception of the evening session. In the evening Prof. J. C. Caldwell, of Lansing, delivered an admirable lecture upon "A Plea for Letters," and there were but thirteen teachers present to listen to it. It may be the threatening storm prevented a larger number from attending, but it does seem a mistake that these evening lectures, by the leading educators of the State, should be held in the High School building. The weather is too warm for them, the majority of people prefer to climb a high hill and three or four flights of stairs to listen to a lecture, and undoubtedly a much larger number would attend these interesting evening sessions were they held in an open house, or hall, or church, in a more central and less elevated portion of the city. Prof. Caldwell's lecture of last evening was delivered in a hall audience and it is a pity only a baker's dozen enjoyed it. There will be no lecture this evening.

Rev. Theo. Nelson, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, is hardly able to attend the sessions of the institute and yet such an indefatigable worker is he that he is never content to rest in the harness. Even since his health broke down at East Saginaw, he has enjoyed but few weeks of good health and he intends to go from this city to Battle Creek, where he hopes to recuperate strength and health from treatment at the sanitarium. He is now but little over forty years of age, and that fact makes his present unfortunate condition all the more sad. There are thousands of friends and admirers who will hope for his complete restoration of health and strength at the Battle Creek water cure.

Injustice Done Parady.

Willie J. Mills, editor of the Middleville Independent, in company with Alfred Parady, the man who was arrested upon suspicion of being implicated in the recent Colby outrage near Middleville, called at the office of the Daily Tribune yesterday and specifically discharged upon being examined, and both men affirm that this was not the least excuse for the arrest being made. They also state that great injustice was done Parady by the officers claiming he attempted to make good his escape from them, before he was informed for what he was wanted. Parady claims this statement is entirely false, as he did not attempt to escape or evade the officers at any time.

A Compliment Well Bestowed.

At the meeting of the Western Furniture Association held in Chicago this week Chas. R. Sligh, the enterprising young furniture manufacturer of this city, was elected president of the organization.

W. T. W. Walker, Lansing, O. H. French, Gardner, Mass., W. C. McCandley, Baltimore, Md.; W. G. Lovell, Cleveland, R. N. Barnes, Muskegon; E. B. Wood, Fort Wayne.

F. W. WURZBURG,

The Strictly One Price and

Cheapest Dry Goods House

In Grand Rapids.

JUST RECEIVED!

Another large invoice of BEAUTIFUL LAWNS!

Which we offer at the following extraordinary low prices.

5¢ Box Balls for 10c, 10c Base-Balls for 5c, 50c base balls for 10c.

These goods must be closed out to make room for others.

Genuine Unflavored Cuban

10c

5¢ York Chewing 10c

10c

5¢ La Rosa Chewing 5c

10c

Three cases sold in two months. The best cigar for the money ever sold in Grand Rapids.

F. B. WINEGAR,

PORTER BLOCK.

TELEPHONE 728.

3,000 yards of handsome patterns, fast color Lawns, at 5c per yard.

Over 5,000 yards of Pacific

Lawns, the very best made, in the most elegant designs, at 10c per yard.

Brocaded Mohair Dress

Goods at the low price of 11c former price 25c.

Summer Silks regardless of cost.

Big bargains in Black Silks.

Summer Wraps, at half price.

Newport Scarfs at actual cost.

Summer Shawls at less than cost.

Summer Underwear at cost.

Big bargains in every department.

HATCH!

125 Monroe St.

OFFERS:

Standard granulated sugar, per lb., 7c.